

Janet Metzger Bio

With nearly 200 audiobooks to her name, Janet is a professionally trained actress and winner of 5 Earphone Awards. With decades of experience on stage, film and TV, she has worked with Denzel Washington, Harrison Ford, and Kevin Hart, among others. A nonfiction and political junkie, she was the voice of CNN and Headline News for over 5 years and the narrator of a blue ribbon-winning documentary at the New York Film festival. Besides her passion for narrative nonfiction, she excels at character-driven fiction and giving listeners a cinematic experience. Her strong comedic skills were honed with years performing sketch comedy with Jeff Foxworthy, and New Vaudeville variety shows (where she learned to spin plates!) Her degree in music and years as a jazz vocalist contributed to her award-winning narration of Unlikely Angel, the Songs of Dolly Parton. Equally comfortable on both sides of the mic, she has worked on numerous projects as a director for Brilliance audio. Her love of legal fiction and nonfiction developed as an adjunct professor at Emory School of Law where she taught students storytelling techniques to be more persuasive in the Courtroom. As part of the LGBTQ community, she is a founding member of the Digging Dykes of Decatur Garden Club.
